Asks Abolition of Part of Versailles Treaty Having to Do With Blame

Favors Opening Negotiations For Revision of Portion of Young Plan

BERLIN, Feb. 12.—(UP)—The Reichstag, opening its campaign against the "war guilt" clause, adopted a resolution today asking the government to seek abolition of that part of the treaty of Versailles which places responsibility for the world conflict on Germany.

Another resolution, protesting against the disarmament of Germany while other powers were failing to observe their armament agreements under the treaty also was adopted. The resolutions were introduced by the peoples party and the Catholic party. The Reichstag adopted them with rising votes.

The adoption of the protest measures came after the legislative body had rejected Communist and Fascist motions to discontinue the Young plan payments, withdraw from the League of Nations and create a frontier guard against Poland.

The Reichstag adopted a motion, however, favoring opening of negotiations immediately with signatories of the Young plan in the hope of obtaining a revision. The vote on this motion, which was introduced by the Christian Socialists, was 214 to 46.

SOLDIER RELIEF APPEARS NEARER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(UP)—The way was opened today by the house ways and means committee for adoption of a compromise veterans relief bill to increase the loan limit on adjusted service certificates. It was indicated the committee would vote favorably later today on such a plan.

The committee devoted its morning session to hearing Under Secretary Ogden L. Mills and Director Frank T. Hines, of the veterans bureau, who discussed the approximate cost of loan proposals.

A loan bill is the only proposal now being considered by the committee. Representative Fish, Republican, N. Y., today modified his bill providing for a 25 per cent cash payment to provide a 25 per cent increase on the loan limit, which would make the limit 471-2 per cent.

WASHINGTON IS SCENE OF MAIL ROBBERY TODAY

Three Pouches of Canceled Bank Notes Taken From Slugged Clerk

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(UP)—Three pouches of registered mail, consigned by the Federal Reserve bank of New York to the treasury's reduction division, were stolen at the union station here early today by two men who black-jacked the clerk in charge of the mail truck.

The pouches are believed to have contained bank notes scheduled to be taken out of circulation by the treasury. Such notes are cut in half and cancelled before being shipped to the treasury to be destroyed.

Feder Johnson of Belleville, N. J., the clerk in charge of the mail truck, was felled by lead pellets wielded by the bandits. The two escaped through the crowded concourse as Johnson fell unconscious to the floor.

United States postal inspectors were called to the scene at once, while police throughout the city were notified by radio. It was said to be the first mail robbery ever staged in the capital.

Inspectors were awaiting word from New York as to the exact contents of the pouches.

If the pouches contained currency to be withdrawn from circulation, the bandits' loot was worthless.

W. A. Offutt, chief of the reduction division in the office of the comptroller of the currency, said all old bills are mutilated before being shipped to the treasury by the federal reserve. They are cut in half and the treasury they are macerated and boiled to pulp.

Johnson, the mail clerk, is an old employee with a good record. He told police he took the mail off a New York train shortly after 2 a. m. He placed the three pouches on the far end of a truck which a negro helper was pulling.

As they neared the entrance to the station concourse leading to the local postoffice, the bandit slugged Johnson with heavily padded lead pipes. These were left with a small handbag at the scene of the robbery.

The helper thought the bandits had gone. He fled and later was found hiding under some luggage in the station. Johnson, however, said the bandits had no guns.

APPROVE WATER BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(UP)—Final congressional approval was given today to the bill authorizing an additional appropriation of $257,000 to defray expenses of the United States and Mexico international water commission, which is studying distribution of waters of the Rio Grande, Lower Colorado and Tia Juana rivers.

The house accepted minor senate amendments and the measure goes to the White House.

POPE PUS XI BROADCASTS TO ENTIRE WORLD

Observes Ninth Anniversary of Coronation—Inaugurate Big Station

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 12.—(UP)—Pope Pius XI today broke down the barriers which had separated the head of the Roman Catholic church from the world for three score years and sent his voice by radio to all parts of the world.

Observing the ninth anniversary of his coronation, Pope Pius inaugurated the powerful new Vatican radio station with an address wishing "the peace of Christ" for all of the faithful.

The Pope sent his blessing to all of the peoples of the earth, to his ministers, to the priests, to all the faithful, the missionaries, the governments and their peoples, the rich and the poor, the employed and the unemployed, the afflicted and the suffering.

Marconi, announcing the presence of the Pope, said:

"It is my very great honor and privilege to announce to you that within a very few moments the supreme pontiff, His Holiness, Pope Pius XI, will inaugurate the radio station of the city of the Vatican state."

Marconi Speaks

"The electric waves will carry his august benediction throughout the world."

"For nearly 20 centuries the Roman pontiffs have given their inspired messages to all peoples but this is the first time in history that the living voice of the Pope has been heard simultaneously in all parts of the globe."

"With the help of Almighty God, who places such mysterious forces of nature at mankind's disposition, I have been able to prepare this instrument that will give the faithful throughout the world the consolation of hearing the voice of the holy father."

"Holy father, I have today the happiness to consign to your holiness the work entrusted to me."

"The completion is now consecrated by your august presence."

BROOKLYN MAN IS VICTIM OF FEVER

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—(UP)—Parrot fever (psittacosis) mystery disease that took a toll in human lives in the United States a year ago, has taken one life in Brooklyn and caused illness of four relatives.

This was revealed today with announcements by Health Commissioner Wynne and representatives of the United States Public Health service sent here to investigate, that "there was no cause for alarm." The Brooklyn case, they said, was isolated, already "under complete control."

The victim of the disease, S. L. Bruck, died January 18. His case at the time was diagnosed as bronchial pneumonia. Suspicion was aroused when other members of the family became ill.

The Republican national committee announced today that numerous Lincoln day rallies would be held in various cities.

Gen. Butler Faces Suit For Talking

Cornelius Vanderbilt Will Sue Unless "Certain Things Retracted"

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 12.—(UP)—Cornelius Vanderbilt jr. may file a civil suit against Gen. Smedley D. Butler as an aftermath of the Butler-Mussolini incident which caused the United States to apologize to the Italian premier, the San Diego Sun said today in a copyrighted interview with Vanderbilt.

Vanderbilt, who has been in San Diego incognito for several days, said he would bring suit against the famous marine general unless "certain things are retracted" and "others cleared up," according to the Sun story.

"The Butler courtmartial may be at an end in Washington," Vanderbilt was quoted as saying, "but as far as I am concerned there are still a lot of other things to be cleared up, including the statement attributed to me by Butler over the so-called Mussolini hit-and-run episode."

Pressed for details as to the cause for a possible civil suit against Butler, Vanderbilt made his first public statement of the incident referred to by Butler in Philadelphia, and which brought about the apology by the United States.

"At the original gathering of some 23 of the members of the American Affiliated Lecture bureau in November, 1930, it was understood and agreed that things said by General Butler, another speaker and myself were not to be repeated outside the four walls of the lecture room," the Sun quoted Vanderbilt.

Violated Confidence

"General Butler not only violated the confidence of this lecturing group but repeated inaccurately a statement of mine before the Contemporary club of Philadelphia in January," Vanderbilt declared.

"General Butler credited me with saying that Mussolini killed a child while motorizing and that he (Mussolini) drove on with the

Army Man Killed, Two Others Hurt As Plane Explodes

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 12.—(UP)—A freak explosion that wrecked one of the army's new $75,000 amphibian planes resulted in the death late last night of Master Sergeant Chester W. Kolinsky of Grisey field.

Master Sergeant Alfred Bernhardt and Private Williams, working on the plane with Kolinsky, were injured by flying glass.

Officers appointed on a board of inquiry were at a loss to explain the cause of the blast. They said the engines had been removed and the fuel tanks thoroughly drained before the men began work.

PERSONAL HATE PARAMOUNT IN CHICAGO RACE

Mayor Thompson and Judge Lyle Engage in Dirtiest of Campaigns

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—(UP)—Jackasses, machine guns and inelegant epithets were employed in the battle between Mayor William Hale Thompson and Judge H. Lyle for the Republican nomination for mayor.

Thompson paraded his donkey and jackass through the streets to symbolize his opponent, Judge Lyle. Lyle displayed submachine guns and sawed-off shotguns at his meetings as symbols of the mayor's alleged ineffectiveness against crime.

And between these two rivals flew such epithets as:

"Lubbering jungle hippopotamus."

"Nuttie Judge."

"Jumbo, the flood relief quack."

"Moron."

"Lurching, shambling imbecile."

"Arrogant, incompetent, inefficient judge."

"Slabby jaws of a barnyard hog."

"Essence of nothingness."

Chicago has gone through tumultuous campaigns in the past but never has it witnessed such bitter personal rivalry as that between Lyle and Thompson.

Alderman Arthur F. Albert thus far has not been drawn into the personal encounter. Although he also is campaigning strenuously for the Republican nomination, Albert hopes to pick up votes that are lost to Lyle and Thompson because of their campaign tactics.

The Chicago Daily News, supporting Albert in the primary, suggested in a humorous vein that an alliance be appointed to pass on the mentality of Thompson and Lyle, since each is attacking the other's sanity.

The Chicago Tribune, is backing Judge Lyle.

Both papers, however, are stronger in their opposition to Thompson than in support of his rivals.

Although the Hearst papers, the Herald and Examiner and the Evening American, have not definitely endorsed Thompson's candidacy, they give him wide publicity. Thompson sponsored a big public reception in Soldiers field for Publisher Hearst when the latter returned from Europe last summer. Hearst papers in the past have campaigned for the mayor.

The primary election is February 24.

SENATE COMMITTEE GETS CANNON DATA

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(UP)—The senate campaign funds investigating committee had before it today a mass of evidence relating to the personal and political financial transactions of Bishop James Cannon jr. Drove Carriage For Abe Lincoln

CHICAGO, Feb. 12.—(UP)—Abraham Lincoln—a kindly young lawyer who ate sandwiches and drank beer but never got drunk or used profanity—was recalled today by the silver-haired old man who drove the president's carriage in his youth.

The reminiscences of Lincoln were told by John Comstock, 83, who, when 11 years old gave up his career as a jockey to drive for Lincoln during the months immediately preceding Lincoln's nomination for president.

"I got 25 cents a day," Comstock said, "and my bed and board."

Lincoln was a country lawyer at Springfield, Ill., and Comstock drove for him to county seats where cases were being heard.

Lincoln had regular habits, Comstock said.

Three Hundred Persons Attend Annual Meeting of Association

RETURNS OF $1,096,716.53 were made to growers of the Villa Park Orchards association, for citrus fruit shipped through the association during the year of 1930, according to a report made to directors and members by H. D. Nichols, secretary and manager of the organization at an annual meeting at the packing house today. The gross returns to the association were $1,254,025.66.

Citrus fruit of all varieties shipped, totaled 201,735 packed boxes, Nichols said, and nearly all of this fruit was Valencia oranges which returned a net average of $5.44 per packed box and which, on the basis of 75 pounds of fruit to the packed box, gives an average of a little over seven cents per pound for all Valencias handled by the house.

Nichols gave growers the highlights of the year and said:

"From the viewpoint of the average Valencia orange grower, the year of 1930 is probably the best year on record. Our shipments for the year were only 66 per cent of the record crop of the previous year while our returns were 54 per cent greater than was received in 1929 and more than a quarter of a million dollars above the returns of our previously high return year of 1927."

"Refunds at the close of the season include the packing and sales refund of $28,663.99, a fertilizer refund of $148,617, Fruit Growers Supply company revolving fund for 1922 of $5382.62, The Exchange Orange Products company revolving fund of $1321.85, and The Villa Park Orchards association revolving fund of $4,755.98. The total amount refunded at this time is $41,839.71."

The committee will urge federal aid in the huge program that has been outlined to conserve the state's water resources.

Members of the delegation, which will confer with the president next Monday, are Senator Bradford Crittenden, Stockton, chairman of the legislative water committee; Assemblyman Robert P. Easley, Antioch, member of the legislative water committee; Colonel Walter E. Garrison, state director of public works; Edward Hyatt, state engineer; Major A. M. PREPARE PLANS FOR CONCLAVE ON DISARMING

United States Expected to Take Leading Part in Coming Conference

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(UP)—Preliminary negotiations designed to provide a basis of success for the coming world disarmament conference have been started between the United States and other powers.

These exchanges are known to be the subject of intense interest in the state department and Secretary Stimson is giving them his personal attention.

Meanwhile, two ideas have gained form in official circles here:

1.—That the United States, although its army is too small to suffer any cuts at Geneva and its navy already has been limited at London, may be expected to play an important role in the conference.

2.—That this and other countries, profiting by previous abortive conferences, are intent on laying a firm understructure for a disarmament treaty before assembling at Geneva. Likewise, they are striving to muster public support of disarmament, without which they believe the conference will fail.

American interest in the conference is inspired by economic reasons as well as a desire for peace. Reliable figures show 3,000,000 men now are under arms in Europe, including Russia. The cost of maintaining these forces is estimated at $1,500,000,000 annually. If some of this money could be diverted into channels of trade, it is believed this country would benefit thereby.

CHAPLIN REFUSES $650,000 CONTRACT

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—(UP)—Charlie Chaplin's desire to remain a silent figure to his film followers cost him a $650,000 radio contract.

Howard Millman, representing a national advertising agency, offered the pantomime comedian a contract calling for 26 radio talks of 15 minutes duration each, at $25,000 each, Charlie to talk from any point he chose. A second offer calling for $130,000 for a series of electrical transcriptions also was refused, it was revealed today.

Carole Robinson, personal representative for Chaplin, said the refusal was based on Chaplin's intention "to preserve at all costs the mystery and illusion of the character he had created on the screen."

The $20,000,000 limit was fixed to prevent delay to building projects in New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois which, in each case, would have aggregated more than $10,000,000, the original limit.

While waiting for Hyde's reply, the senate adopted the conference report on the bill increasing the authorization for public building construction by $100,000,000, but without specifying where the buildings shall be erected. The bill requires similar action by the house before being sent to President Hoover for signature.

The bill provides that not more than $65,000,000 shall be spent in any one year, and of that sum not more than $15,000,000 in the District of Columbia. Expenditures in any states are limited to $20,000,000 in one year until 1934, when the sum will be reduced to $10,000,000.

FOOD LOANS SOUGHT BY OPPONENTS

If Secretary of Agriculture Rules Favorably Bill Is Certain to Pass

Renewed Attack on Compromise Opens in Senate After Opening Today

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(UP)—The fate of the $20,000,000 drought relief compromise depends largely on what Secretary of Agriculture Hyde says in response to the Senate's demand for formal statement as to whether food loans will be granted from the fund, Senator Watson of Indiana, said after a call at the White House this morning.

Watson, Republican leader in the senate, and Senator Goff, Republican, West Virginia, had an early conference with President Hoover regarding the latest turn in the long drawn out battle over relief for drought stricken farmers of the west and south.

The $20,000,000 compromise, arrived at after the Red Cross refused a $25,000,000 appropriation proposed by the senate, had at first seemed assured of easy passage. The agreement provided that the $20,000,000 be added to the original $45,000,000 drought relief appropriation, the whole to be administered under more liberal terms than those of the first measure which provided loans only for seed, feed and tractor fuel.

President Hoover and Secretary Hyde, fighting to keep direct relief work in the hands of the Red Cross, refused to say definitely whether the compromise would be interpreted to include food loans, although champions of the agreement, including Democratic Leader Robinson, asserted it would.

Democrats and insurgent Republicans then opened a renewed attack on the compromise, which gained momentum and culminated last night in passage of a resolution by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, asking a formal interpretation by Secretary Hyde.

Hyde was in Louisville, Ky., today to deliver an address. He left Washington last night after hurried conferences with the President and Republican leaders. The senate expected to receive Hyde's reply by telegraph this afternoon.

While waiting for Hyde's reply, the senate adopted the conference report on the bill increasing the authorization for public building construction by $100,000,000, but without specifying where the buildings shall be erected. The bill requires similar action by the house before being sent to President Hoover for signature.

TRIBUTE PAID TO MEMORY OF LINCOLN BY ENTIRE NATION

Hoover To Give Address Tonight

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(UP)—The capital led the nation in tribute to Abraham Lincoln today on the 122nd anniversary of the birth of the Emancipator.

President Hoover, Vice President Curtis, Chief Justice Hughes and prominent members of the cabinet and congress were scheduled for Lincoln day addresses here and elsewhere throughout the country.

Mr. Hoover's address was to be delivered at 10 o'clock, E. S. T., tonight over a nationwide radio hookup. The president was to speak from the historic Lincoln room on the second floor of the White House, used by Lincoln as a private office and study during the Civil war.

Vice President Curtis, Chief Justice Hughes, Attorney General Mitchell, Secretary of Interior Wilbur, Secretary of Labor Doak and Hugh Guthrie, K. C., minister of justice and attorney general of Canada, are to speak at Lincoln day celebrations here.

A special program has been arranged at the New York avenue Presbyterian church where Lincoln worshiped during the war years.

The Republican national committee announced today that numerous Lincoln day rallies would be held in various cities.

let your voice be heard all over the world."

After broadcasting of the Pope's radio message, which was then translated from the Latin for broadcasting to the international radio audience, the pontiff left the radio station and went directly to the papal academy of sciences, where an extraordinary session was held in celebration of the coronation anniversary, the inauguration of the new station and to install Senator Guglielmo Marconi as a member.

Stresses Peace

The Pope, beginning his radio speech, said he spoke in the "name of the prince of the apostles, by divine command" for all peoples to hear.

"Listen all people," he said. "Availing ourselves of the work of Senator Marconi, we use and bless, with the aid of God, this wonderful invention."

"Hear ye, people of the world, let our first words be:

"Glory to God in the highest and on earth, peace to men of good will."

The pope said his words "shall be peace to all," particularly to the faithful.

"We beg you to be worthy of your divine vocation," he said in addressing the officials of the church throughout the world. "We implore you to make your people true to Christ and to become the model of your flock. May the Lord Jesus Christ be present to you in all your good work."

In the ceremony at the papal academy, Father Giuseppe Gianfranceschi, head of the papal science academy, thanked the pontiff for his speech inaugurating the station.

Father Gianfranceschi proposed that Marconi be made a member of the academy in recognition of his efforts in providing the papal state with the station.

Marconi briefly thanked Father Gianfranceschi for his invitation to become a member of the academy. The famous inventor said, however, that the new station was due entirely to the interest and efforts of Pope Pius. He said he was happy to accept the membership invitation.

Pope Pius then spoke in Italian, saying he was grateful that God allowed him to live to see so many marvels developed by science. He paid tribute to Marconi as an inventor who had permitted the divine word of Christ, uttered by the human voice of Christ's vicar, to be heard throughout the world.

Governor Murray Makes Appeal for 'Another Lincoln'

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 12.—(UP)—Governor William H. Murray of Oklahoma, himself a man of the common people, self educated, gaunt and rustic like "The Great Emancipator," stood last night in the shadow of the Civil war president's tomb and uttered a prayer for the coming of "another Lincoln."

Murray, whose career is re-mindful of that of Lincoln, came out of the southwest to join in paying homage to the martyred president, who was born in Kentucky 122 years ago today.

Born, like Lincoln, in a log house and, like Lincoln, a lawyer, Murray, who enjoys his nickname of "Alfalfa Bill," extended his great hands, declared the world was facing the same problem it faced in 1860 and prayed:

"Oh, Father of all mercies, Send us another Lincoln."

remark "what is one life in the affairs of state."

"I am not trying to dig up the past but there have been so many garbled accounts concerning this matter that I now feel that in justice to my own work, which has suffered considerably since the incident, the public should know the real truth in that General Butler violated the agreement of our lecture organization, General Butler incorrectly described came about in the following manner:

"I was riding with Mussolini, who was driving his car. At a sharp jog in the road a small child ran in front of the machine and was hit. I looked back to see if the child had been hurt and as I did so Mussolini placed his hand on my knee and these were his very words: 'Never look back. Mr. Vanderbilt, always look ahead in life.'"

"I wonder how General Butler would feel if I were not to respect his confidence and repeat some of the very confidential things he has said in my hearing. My position all during this controversy has been that a gentleman should not violate confidential information but now that the court martial has been dismissed I feel the public should know the true state of affairs."

Gathers Evidence

Vanderbilt has been to San Diego several times in the past 10 days, flying here from Phoenix. It was learned that one of his reasons for coming here was for the purpose of gathering data on the Butler-Williams cocktail episode of five years ago.

The case attracted nation-wide attention when General Butler preferred charges of intoxication and conduct unbecoming to an officer against Col. Alexander Williams who he had relieved as commandant of the U. S. marines corps base.

The charges followed a party in Colonel Williams' Coronado home at which cocktails were served and Williams was subsequently found guilty at a court martial and sentenced to a loss of four numbers in promotion list.

Just what connection this case may have with the recent Butler-Mussolini tangle, Vanderbilt refused to say. He has made several visits at the marine base during his frequent trips here, however.

The young newspaperman, author and lecturer, left San Diego during the morning without revealing his destination.

Police News

Police searched the neighborhood of Nineteenth and Greenleaf streets yesterday afternoon when it was reported that a man, approximately 20 years old, riding in an old car, had attempted to pick up school girls on the street.

One girl reported to her mother that the man had offered her $2 to go riding with him. A search of the neighborhood failed to reveal any trace of the motorist, however.

Wanted in Santa Ana on a charge of non-support, Harry W. Keys has been arrested in San Jose for local sheriff's officers, it was reported here.

A telegram notifying the local office of the man's arrest was received here today. One deputy sheriff has gone to Missouri after a prisoner and another has gone to Phoenix, leaving the sheriff's office "short" of help at the present time and it is not known when Keys can be returned here.

Builders Are To Seek Southland Representation

An effort to secure representation for Southern California in the national organization of Builders Exchanges is to be made at the national convention of the organization, it was announced today by William J. Tway, who has been selected by the Orange County Builders Exchange as delegate to the convention.

Tway will leave Saturday for San Antonio, Tex., where the convention is to be held for a four day session, commencing February 16.

In the past, California has been considered as a whole, in representation in the national body, but Tway declared that the southern part of the state has the greatest number of exchanges and largest number of national members of any section of the United States and is entitled to separate representation.

The name of Allison Honer, Santa Ana contractor, will be presented to the convention by Tway, for election as fourth vice president of the national organization.

RABID DOG IS PUT TO DEATH AT COSTA MESA

A rabid police dog running rampant in Costa Mesa killed one dog and nearly tore the leg off another dog, according to reports today. The dog finally was located by officers of the Newport police department and was killed on Sixteenth street in Costa Mesa Tuesday night. According to the health department the dog was known positively to have had rabies.

At least seven dogs were bitten by the dog before it was killed, and possibly many more were bitten. No one knows to whom the dog belonged.

Not knowing where the dog came from or how much territory it has covered, the health department issued a warning to residents of Costa Mesa and Newport districts to keep their dogs tied or penned up for the next three weeks or more. If the dogs show any symptoms of rabies the constable in Costa Mesa or the health department should be notified at once.

The diagnosis of rabies may be difficult and may require the judgment of an experienced physician or veterinarian but any of the following symptoms should be considered sufficient evidence for suspicion of rabies and reporting of the animal, according to Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer: Sudden change in disposition, unusual nervousness or irritability, tendency to leave home, change in voice, refusal to eat, tendency to snap or bite without provocation, weakness or paralysis of legs or lower jaw. A dog sometimes acts as if he had a bone in his throat when he is developing rabies. The health department warned people not to try to help the dogs in such cases.

Dr. Sutherland issued a statement saying that since 1 to 20 per cent of people who are bitten by rabid dogs develop rabies and since after it has developed it is almost sure to be fatal, it is apparent that it is very important to give the Pasteur treatment to any one bitten by a dog with positive rabies. Persons bitten by dogs, which by the symptoms are likely to have rabies, should take the Pasteur treatment even though the laboratory report is negative, he stated.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY TROJAN GROUP

ANAHEIM, Feb. 12.—A reorganization meeting of the Orange County Men's Trojan club was held Tuesday night in the Elks club. Officers for the year were elected and plans for increasing the membership of the club were outlined.

Ted Kuchel, of Anaheim, was elected president of the club, succeeding Ray Edwards, of Orange. Lowell Jenson, of Anaheim, was elected secretary-treasurer and Clifford Phillips of Santa Ana, was elected vice president.

Twenty-eight members of the club were present. According to Kuchel, there are 160 graduates of the University of Southern California in Orange county and an effort will be made to secure as many as possible of this number as members of the club. Another meeting will be called by the newly elected president within the next two months and all graduates of the college will be advised of the meeting.

Professor Emory Olsen, co-ordination officer of the college, was present at the meeting and told the members of the club of the activities of the alumni of the college during the past year.

BAKERY PLANT HOST TODAY TO BREAKFASTERS

Entertainment de luxe was provided after a bountiful breakfast of ham and eggs and all the trimmings at the Kilpatrick bakery this morning, for the Santa Ana Breakfast club and guests by Claude McDowell, Santa Ana manager. A crowd of over 100 persons was delighted, amazed and amused at the varied program offered by the entertainment committee.

The feature of the morning was the appearance of Lloyd the magician, whose novel stunts mystified and amused his large audience. Lloyd did card tricks that were out of the ordinary and proved his mastery of the mystic art of legerdemain and magic. Other stunts which were unusually clever were the East Indian rope trick and the Chinese rings. In the former a rope that had been cut in two pieces was united and the other consisted of fastening apparently solid steel rings together and taking them apart at will.

Other features on the program were the Johnson sisters in song and dance numbers, accompanied at the piano by Ramona Gilbert, and Isadore Fields, tenor, who sang "Elegy" and "Volga Boatman." He was accompanied by Allen Lair, honorary member of the club.

Considerable merriment was aroused by comic valentines which were presented to various club members and read aloud by the recipients. Bruce Switzer was program chairman for the occasion. The other member of the program committee was Earl Morrow. The committee for next week, as announced by Edward Cochens, chairman of the general program committee, is Tevis Westgate and Dr. R. Grover.

In accordance with a movement to co-operate with the work of the Santa Ana Philharmonic Symphony, the club president, Dr. E. D. Kilbourne, appointed Isadore Fields and F. R. Schweitzer as a committee.

SANTA ANA GIRLS 'LOOP THE LOOP'

"Dipping the dips" on the new street which extends from the city limits of Santa Ana on West First street, through the Santa Ana river bed is more dangerous than it is thrilling, two Santa Ana girls found out late Tuesday when the car in which they were speeding over the dip, turned over twice, hurling its occupants out of the car.

The girls were Geraldine Smith, 15, of 437 South Broadway, and Thelma Hurst, of 315 South Flower street. Both were cut and bruised and Miss Hurst had several teeth knocked out. Both girls were taken to the Orange county hospital, where first aid was given and they were removed to their homes.

One of the girls had driven a midge car over the dip and was thrilled when the car struck the dip, so she and her friend thought it would be more thrilling in a larger car. They borrowed one from F. Underwood, of 521 South Van Ness street, and were reported to have struck the dip at approximately 60 miles an hour.

Twice the Help!

Many things people take for constipation do only half as much for them as Cascarets would do. For Cascarets are made from cascara, which any doctor will tell you acts not only on the lower bowel but the upper one as well. And it actually strengthens the muscles of the bowels. So the quick, pleasant relief Cascarets bring when you're bilious, dizzy, headachy and constipated, is lasting relief! Late News From Orange And Nearby Towns

MUSIC IN HOME P.-T. A. TOPIC ON WEDNESDAY

ORANGE, Feb. 12.—"Music in the Home" was the subject of a talk given by Mrs. A. Haven Smith at the meeting of the Intermediate P.-T. A. yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Jim Winget presided at the business session, after which the meeting was turned over to the program chairman, Mrs. F. E. Hallman. Miss Rachel Williams presided at the piano for the community singing. Mary Moffit gave a violin solo, accompanied by Miss Williams. Miss Williams sang. Mrs. Hallman introduced the speaker, Mrs. A. Haven Smith. Mrs. Jim Winget gave a reading on "Founders' Ideals, Yesterday and Today," observing the birthday of the P.-T. A. 34 years ago, citing the kindergarten law in California as one of the objects secured by the organization.

Mrs. Smith said in part: "Music is a universal language. The old Scottish instruments had only a five-tone scale. Almost anyone will sit at a piano and strike a chord just for the musical sound. Rhythm takes away the element of drudgery in many forms of work. We have a musical background expressed today in the radio and phonograph, but the piano always comes back as the king of instruments. Much music is given in our schools by the class system, both instrumental and vocal. Music in the home is of a different type, appealing to the heart and head."

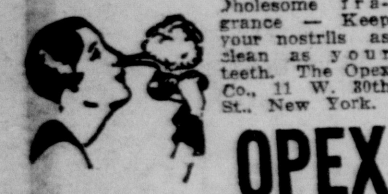

Refreshments were served at the social hour with Mesdames Walter Kogler, L. L. Williams and W. E. Engleheart as hostesses and the sixth grade girls as helpers. Fifty-one were present.

How Modern Women Lose Pounds of Fat Swiftly—Safely

At The Same Time Gain in Physical Vigor and Youthfulness and Possess a Clear Skin and Vivacious Eyes That Sparkle With Glorious Health.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast. Be sure and do this every morning for "it's the little daily dose that takes off the fat."—Don't miss a morning. The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system. While taking Kruschen out on pastry and fatty meats go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are tuned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six health promoting salts are carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

If you want to lose fat with speed get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts from Mateer Drug Store, Givens and Cannon, or any live druggist anywhere in America with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back.

A North Carolina woman lost 47 pounds in 3 months—a Montana woman lost 19 pounds in 4 weeks—Wisconsin woman 11 pounds in 6 weeks.—Adv.

WICKHORST AND ALLISON TO BE INGRAM AIDES

BERKELEY, Feb. 12.—(UP)—A former Navy All-American tackle and a one time coach of the University of South Dakota were named today as assistants to William ("Navy Bill") Ingram, new football coach of the University of California.

The first assistant coach will be Leonard Allison, present assistant to Glenn Thistlethwaite of the University of Wisconsin and for five years chief mentor at South Dakota.

The new line coach will be Frank Wickhorst, whom Ingram developed into a stellar Navy line man in 1926, and who later became head line coach at the University of Iowa.

Both appointments were made by the student body executive committee on Ingram's recommendation. In a message to the committee, Ingram expressed himself as "highly pleased" with the action.

The new coaches will arrive here in time for spring training starting in March.

FRIEDMAN DEMANDS $10,000 FROM YALE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 12.—(INS)—The question of Benny Friedman's salary is holding up Yale's football plans.

Friedman is on Yale's coaching slate for $5000, but Benny thinks he should receive $10,000, a sum equal to what he made in pro football last season.

The $10,000 demand is above the maximum coaching salary fixed by a Big Three agreement.

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 12.—Three basketball games will be played at the Harbor Hi gym this evening, the final bracket of the first half schedule of the Community Basketball league. These games will definitely decide the champion of the first half, as well as the cellar champion.

The Balboa Phelps Turkeys, undefeated, will meet the Costa Mesa Outlaws. This game will decide the championship. The Community church of Costa Mesa and the Newport Methodists lock horns to decide third and fourth places, as well as the church championship of the district. The other tilt, deciding which team shall win its first game, will be between the Newport Pirates and the Balboa Sea Scouts.

More than sixty players from the Harbor district are signed up in this league. Games are played every Thursday night, under the direction of the high school athletic department. A second half will be played, with probably the same teams entered. A trophy is to be presented to the winner.

Pile Sufferers

End Your Misery Without Salves or Cutting

External treatments cannot permanently end Piles. No doctor can remove the cause. The cause is internal—bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel. The veins are flabby—the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles an internal medicine must be used to heal and strengthen the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, a specialist, after years of study discovered a real internal Pile remedy. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1000 patients, with the marvelous record of success in 369 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own druggist. Don't waste time on external remedies or think of the pain and expense of an operation until you have tried HEM-ROID. McCoy's Drug Store will supply you and guarantee money-back if it does not end all Pile misery.—Adv.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jones and family spent Sunday at Brawley. They made the trip by auto and were caught in a hard rainstorm.

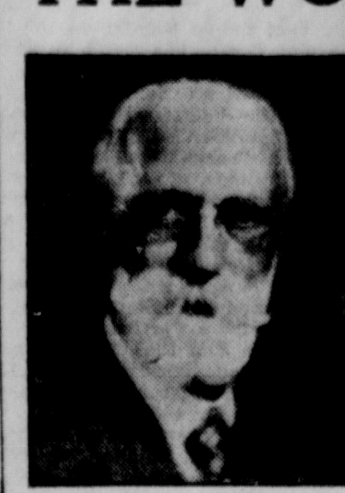

Miss Marion Keep of Hemet, is the guest of Miss Frances Hill, 627 Frankfort street, assistant secretary of the National Building and Loan company.

Mrs. Joseph Morse, formerly Miss Hazel Uhlman, is here from Salinas, visiting her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Morse.

SAVE TIME FUEL MONEY

... and no one has ever spent a dollar for track repairs or replacements on any of the 581 "Caterpillar" Tens, Fifteens and Twenties which have been sold by us.

Why "Caterpillars" Save Time

WITH a "Caterpillar" tractor you can get on the land immediately after a rain or after irrigating. It will tackle any job and get it done quickly and efficiently. A "Caterpillar" Tractor holds the world's non-stop endurance record. You can depend on YOUR "Caterpillar" to keep on hitting the ball, hour after hour, day after day, month after month, with little or no time out for servicing. For getting work done the way it ought to be done, nothing can equal a "Caterpillar".

Why "Caterpillars" Save Fuel

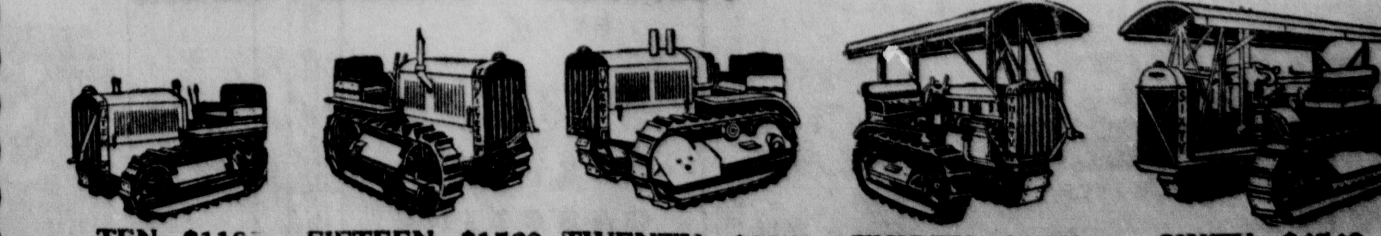

SUPERIOR engineering enables every "Caterpillar" Tractor to be extremely stingy with fuel and still deliver abundant power to spare. But that's not all. Slippage—that prodigal waster of power and fuel—is done away with by the sure-footed, strong-gripping tracks of the "Caterpillar".

SPECIAL RATES ANNOUNCED BY S. P. RAILROAD

That public benefactor, the "dollar day" sale, has found its way into the railroad.

Marking an innovation in this field, the Southern Pacific company today announced plans for widespread "bargain" sales of round-trip transportation, scheduled for two successive Fridays, February 20 and 27, with fares approximating a "cent a mile."

The offer in the interest of promoting travel will apply over all the company's Pacific lines, extending from Portland to El Paso and from San Francisco to Ogden. It was made known here by L. B. Valla, district freight and passenger agent for the railroad.

Providing for travel on all trains, both coach and Pullman, the Friday "dollar day" tickets will be good for four days from the date of sale, Valla stated. The return limit will be the following Tuesday midnight.

The reductions to be offered, Valla declared, rival the "price slashes" in the field of merchandising.

"Railroad officials have watched the growth of the dollar day sale and we now believe that application of the idea to passenger transportation will be of marked advantage to those interested in travel economy."

"Southern Pacific feels that travel bargains will be just as acceptable to the buyer as merchandise bargains, and for that reason we have decided to make this novel experiment."

Two School Board Members Not To Seek Re-Election

WILLIAM TWAY IS SUGGESTED AS CANDIDATE

With the first day for filing nominations in connection with municipal elections less than three weeks in the future, attention today was being turned toward possible candidates for the Santa Ana board of education.

Personnel of the board is due for some change, it being learned today the two members of the present board have definitely decided not to make a bid for the office, with the other three undecided as to what course they will take.

With one exception, no new name has been mentioned in connection with the school board. The exception is the name of William J. Tway who it is reported has been asked to make the race as a representative of business interests of the city. Tway, who is a former president of the Santa Ana Business Men's association and the Orange County Builders Exchange, when asked today if he would be a candidate for the board, said that he had been requested to run, and that he expected to be a candidate for a municipal office but had not yet decided definitely on the matter.

Members of the board who today declared they would not be candidates next April were Dr. John Ball, president of the board and Herbert Miller, business man. Dr. Ball has served one term and in announcing his decision today not to run again for the post, asserted that his practice as a surgeon was growing to such an extent that he could not devote the necessary time to consideration of school business and affairs. Miller has served for three years, having been appointed to complete the unexpired term of George Duntion, who was elected to the board four years ago.

Other members of the board who today said they were considering the question of candidacy for the next four year term and as yet were undecided, are Dr. Roy Horton, Dr. M. A. Patton and Dr. Margaret Baker.

Dr. Horton is the veteran member of the board, now completing

HER VISIONS OF THE PAST

The pictures below show Tad Lincoln, left, as he appeared in the White House when Mrs. Helen Brainerd Cole, upper center, nursed him back to health. At the right is a picture of Willie Lincoln, who died in the White House while his father was president. Mrs. Cole attended Willie Lincoln's funeral. When Tad was ill Lincoln spent hours by his bedside. In the drawing at the right Lincoln is seen in one of his "common folks" moments, eating pie on the floor of a war hospital.

CIVIL WAR NURSE WHO KNEW LINCOLN RECALLS INCIDENTS IN LIFE OF NATION'S IDOL

By BRUCE CATTON
NEA Service Writer
(Copyright, 1931, NEA Service, Inc.)

SHEBOYGAN, Wis., Feb. 12.—A very old lady reached back into her memories today so that she could share with her fellow-citizens the series of pictures and reminiscences of Abraham Lincoln that she always carries with her.

She is Mrs. Helen Brainerd Cole, one of the 45 Civil War nurses still on the U. S. Pension Bureau rolls. She is 92 now, and she was an army nurse in Washington during the dark days of the war; and for a time she stayed in the White House as nurse to little "Tad" Lincoln when the child was sick. She was pre-a full diet. So I got all the nurses that could be spared and set them to making pies. I wish you could have seen all those pretty girls, dressed in white, with their sleeves rolled up, making pies!

"Well, Mr. Lincoln dropped in and watched us; and finally he began to help us, taking the pies and putting them in the oven for us."

"Another time some friend had sent us four bushels of strawberries, and we were making strawberry shortcake. Mr. Lincoln came in just as we were dishing it up. He stood in the door, watching, and I could see that he wanted some. So I mentioned to one of the boys, and he gave Mr. Lincoln a big plateful. There weren't any chairs, so Mr. Lincoln just sat down on the floor, in a corner, and ate his shortcake."

"That was the way he always was; so simple and natural and unaffected. We never thought anything of his dropping in."

"He always suffered intensely for the soldiers. I remember after The Wilderness, we had a number of cases of lockjaw. Once I was by the bed of one lad who had lockjaw, and I was feeding him orange juice. Mr. Lincoln came in and stood there, looking down, with tears streaming down his cheeks. At last he said, 'My poor boy, I do wish I could help you.'"

Mrs. Cole went to the White House to act as nurse for Tad shortly after the Lincoln's smaller son, Willie, had died. Tad was ill of the same ailment, and his parents were suffering deeply for him.

"Tad had an impediment in his speech," she said, "and we couldn't always understand what he was saying. So Mr. Lincoln would interpret for him. The president would spend hours by Tad's bedside—he used to come in with a big sheaf of official papers and sit by Tad's bed, going over the papers while the little boy looked on."

"And then Mrs. Lincoln used to come in; and I want to say right here she was a very lovely and lovely woman, highly educated, faultless in her dress—and there never was any friction between her and Mr. Lincoln."

"Often, when Mr. Lincoln was at

BLANSHARD TO GIVE TALKS AT S. A. COLLEGE

Paul Blanshard, director of the city affairs committee of New York and special lecturer of the League for Industrial Democracy, will be the principal speaker and guest at the annual "Y" Day to be held at the Santa Ana Junior college February 17 by the combined Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

A complete program for the day has been mapped out by Bob Williams, president of the Y. M. C. A., and Jac Crawford, vice president and "Y" Day chairman. Blanshard will open the activities of the day by giving an address at the student breakfast in the college cafeteria at 7 a. m. He will talk on "The High Cost of Living," which may include a humorous dissertation on the subject of funerals. At the regular college assembly at 11 a. m., the speaker will give a lecture on Industrial Democracy and the Machine Age. Bob Williams will be in charge of the assembly.

Three discussion groups will be held at 12:30, 1:30 and 2:30 p. m., all to be led by Blanshard. The topics are "Racketeering High and Low—A Social Interpretation," "Bernard Shaw and Modern Socialism," and "International Economics and the Next War." It was pointed out that the speaker would not attempt to treat the religious side of these questions but only the social phases.

By reason of the general interest in the topic selected for the assembly program, the public is invited to attend. The balcony of the high school auditorium will be reserved for visitors and the students will occupy the lower floor. No admission will be charged.

Besides Bob Williams and Jac Crawford, arrangements for the "Y" Day program are being supervised by Miss Vernell Butler, president of the Y. W. C. A., and Milton V. Newcomer and Louis L. Roeman, faculty advisors of the men's group, and Mrs. John Tesmann, advisor of the women's organization.

Glaab Receives Pilot's License

Francis Glaab, manager of the Fox Broadway theater, today received his private pilot's license, following only five months of actual training in aviation.

He has had 22 hours in solo flights and never did go to ground school, taking all of his training in a plane. It was reported, Glaab received a permit to fly today from W. L. Shields, department inspector after going through a rigid set of tests at the Santa Ana Airway field on West First street yesterday.

MAYOR PURINTON NAMED TO AIDS ENGLISH LASS IN SEARCH FOR HUBBY ENACT ROLE OF DAN CUPID

Is there a bachelor (or perhaps a widower) living in Santa Ana who would appreciate a pretty, well-educated, 20-year-old English bride and be glad to make her a comfortable home?

If so, he would do well to hurry to the telephone and call up Hizzoner, the mayor, Frank L. Purinton, who has been designated by fate to play the role of Dan Cupid, and spend this valentine season shooting little arrows into the air. And thereby hangs a tale of romance and (possibly) young love.

Living at the typically British address of 179 Linacre road, Liverpool, England, is an English girl who by her own admission, is "twenty years old, educated and good looking," and whose chief ambition at present, is to be married to an American, one who is "kind, generous and good tempered," to quote the letter which Mayor Purinton received today.

The English girl does not believe in beating about the bush, but comes directly to the point in the opening lines of her letter.

"I hope you will pardon me for taking the liberty of writing to you," (she states) "but I thought you would be able to help me, in some way, to find a husband. I should like to correspond with a gentleman with a view to matrimony: one who is kind, generous and good tempered. I would not mind whether he was young or elderly."

Evidently America is the promised land to this young Englishwoman, for in closing her letter (which by the way, is beautifully written in a copper plate hand) she states "I had an uncle who lived in America years ago, and I often heard him praise America and its people, so naturally I should love to live there."

Bachelors (or widowers) who might be interested in assisting Mayor Purinton conduct his search for a suitable husband for the confiding young woman, might do far worse than telephone him at his office, 19, and secure the girl's name. Who knows what international romance might develop, with Mayor Purinton as god of the machine?

GOVERNMENT WILL AID UTAH PARKS

Destined to become one of the greatest attractions among the scenic beauties of the nation and already holding a commanding place among the natural wonders of the world, the southern Utah National parks this year will gain government aid that will make them outstanding tourist attractions.

A recent proclamation signed by President Hoover has increased the parks area from 14,480 acres to 30,160 acres, bringing into the boundaries of the parks an additional area of adjoining canyons needed to complete the park. Immediately after this the President signed the Leavitt bill, which increases the appropriation during the next two years from $5,000,000 to $7,500,000 for national park roads.

Of this amount $750,000 has been allotted to Bryce canyon in the Southern Utah parks. Each year since the establishment of Bryce Canyon National Park in 1928, it has grown in attractiveness. During the past season the Southern Utah Parks entertained more visitors than any other group of national parks. The Union Pacific System serves this territory exclusively. During the summer months it operates special tours for thousands of travelers from the east and west on its transcontinental railway system.

STREET LIGHTS OF SANTA ANA GIVEN PRAISE

A letter received by Mayor Frank L. Purinton from Fred W. Swanton, mayor of Santa Cruz, compliments Santa Ana on its progress during the past few years. Below is an excerpt from the letter:

"Recently I took a drive from Los Angeles down to San Diego. I passed through your beautiful city about 7:30 p. m. Of all the places I went through your city struck me as being the most progressive in the way of illuminations and street work. I could not help but note the wonderful illuminations you had, from the time we entered your city coming in, and where we left it on the way out, and I made up my mind that I would drop you a line congratulating you and your officials upon your progress."

LONDON—Sir William Orpen, the famous painter, has one of the oddest collections in England—a musical toy layout. His toys come from all over the world.

Granas, whether many fathers are jealous of their sons; Mrs. S. H. Finley, why more men than women commit suicide; Mrs. J. Edmund Snow, whether women are more superstitious than men; Mrs. F. E. Harrison, why men succumb to temptation more easily than women; Mrs. Sutton, why there are more men than women in the bread line; Mrs. Ethel Niquette, whether men's clubs do the community more good than women's; Mrs. John Backus, whether men are more pleasant socially than women; and Mrs. O. J. Northrup on whether women can fill the place that men fill.

The meeting closed with a general discussion of astrology.

MR. AND MRS. J. A. MAAG

When Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Maag celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday, it was made a special day for their family and friends, who were entertained in their home on Fairhaven avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Maag have spent forty of their fifty years of wedlock, in this home. They are the proud parents of a splendid family of ten children, who with their families, are also Orange county residents.

HALF CENTURY OF WEDLOCK
CELEBRATED IN MAAG HOME

Crowning a half century of happy wedded life, forty years of which have been spent in this community, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Maag, held a joyous celebration Tuesday in the family home on Fairhaven avenue, welcoming scores of friends who called to offer congratulations and good wishes on their golden wedding day, and making the occasion one to be enshrined in the memories of their sons and daughters.

The day's celebration began at (in a recent automobile accident) an early hour, for a special mass and children, Mary Ann, Lucina and Robert; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maag and son Jimmie, of Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. William Alt-miller and son Billy, of Taft; Mr. and Mrs. William Maag and children, Edwina, Marilyn Jeanne and Billy, of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maag, Santa Ana canyon; Mrs. Joe Maag and son, Dickie Joe, Santa Ana canyon; Mr. and Mrs. Nick Brock of Santa Ana, and Clarence Maag of the home.

Miss Ruth Armstrong was at the organ, and the special music included an "Ave Maria," sung by Miss Elizabeth Easton, solo by Cecil Fross Willis, and duet numbers by Miss Easton and Mrs. Willis.

Afternoon Reception
Returning to their home, Mr. and Mrs. Maag maintained open house for the remainder of the day, welcoming nearly 300 guests during the afternoon hours. Mrs. Maag was quite charming in a gown of black flat crepe and wearing a corsage of gardenias and lilies of the valley. The happy couple were very nearly inundated beneath the flowers that were sent them in lavish profusion, and the home was a bower of brilliant blossoms with yellow and golden tones predominating.

A musical program was presented by a trio composed of Ruth Armstrong, pianist, Georgia Belle Walton, violinist, and Edward Burns, cellist, and Cecil Fross Willis contributed a succession of songs, choosing favorites of the honored couple.

Daughters and daughters-in-law of the home, aided in the serving of individual cakes lettered in gold, and wedding bell lilies with yellow and white mints. Each was becomingly gowned in afternoon costume, worn with corsage of camellias and yellow rosebuds. Among the guests were friends from all over Orange county and from Los Angeles and other Southern cities, while there were several old time friends present from Humphrey, Neb., the former family home.

Hosts at Dinner
In the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Maag were dinner hosts to the members of their family circle, bringing the day's joys to a climax. The dinner table was a study in golden yellows, with its flowers, candles and festoons of yellow tulle. A feature of the rich menu was the desert course with its handsome wedding cakes, one the gift of Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Thomas of Olive, the other from Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Porter of Orange.

The children of the hosts took the opportunity to present their gift of $50 in gold, while Mr. and Mrs. Maag had a surprise gift for each son and daughter in return, beautifully finished photographs of themselves in a folder, each gift wrapped and tied with gold paper and ribbons.

Family Circle
Sharing the intimacy and joy of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Feeley of Los Angeles, life-long friends; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elmers and Mrs. Margaret Elmers of Fullerton, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tieskotter of Rivera, brothers-in-law and sisters of Mrs. Maag; and the families of the ten children who have blessed the home. These were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maag and son Lawrence of Orange; John Maag of Orange; Mrs. John Maag was unable to be present because of her injuries

Eleven tables of bridge were in play during the afternoon. When scores were added gifts, attractively wrapped in green and pink, were presented to Mrs. Richard Emison, Mrs. Herbert Miller and Mrs. Cotton Mather. The first contained a pewter bowl, the second an Italian cut-work luncheon set and the third a pair of dainty boudoir pillows.

Mrs. John McKittick and Mrs. Howard Timmons assisted Mrs. Tubbs with her hostess duties. Gifts of flowers from the gardens of Mrs. George Briggs and Mrs. Charles Cotant were attractively arranged about the room.

This charming cluster of flowers was later presented to Mrs. Harry Zaiser, chief guest of honor. Mrs. Zaiser is the wife of Dr. Zaiser, general superintendent of the hospital.

Valentine place cards were written for Mrs. Zaiser, Miss Grace E. Lansing, superintendent of nurses; Mrs. Julia Salisbury, Mrs. Gertrude Crowell, the Misses Anna Ebinger, Bertha L. New Shade for Old Lamps

Spring will soon be here—perhaps that is why the shades on the living room lamps are beginning to look so shabby and faded. Smoke certainly does not add to the beauty and brightness of shades, so let's consider what can be done about them.

No doubt some of them are of the pleated parchment type; if you should try to replace them, let me save you the trouble of shopping for them, for I was told that they are no longer smart, consequently cannot be bought. But what is to prevent us making our own? And as for that dictum about "not being smart," they are for us, as long as we like them and they suit our rooms. . . . Beside simplicity is always smart, and these are so simple a child can make them.

Go to a book shop and buy several sheets of a very heavy grade of drawing paper, one that will pleat and take water colors. The best size to use is 27 by 40 inches and costs 50 cents. Measure the circumference of the shade, bottom wire, and measure the depth of the present shade in use.

Mark the paper for the depth and allow 2 1/2 times the circumference. Cut the paper and on it sketch bands for the yellow shade and for the larger, sepia-toned shade sketch an irregular design that looks like a landscape with hills and valleys showing just above the lower edge.

This one can be tinted any shade wished for the body, then the landscape washed in with sepia tint. For the banded shade, color the whole shade a soft pale yellow, then with a yellow crayon rule (faintly) bands of varying width on the paper and wash in a deeper yellow carefully.

Dry and take to the pleatory to pleat and punch for the silk draw cords. Less than three dollars will cover the cost of these two lovely shades. (Mark the right distance for the snicks which must be made to fit the shade onto the wire frame.)

TODAY'S RECIPE CHEESE TORT

Part I
1 package Holland rusk
1-2 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup sugar
1-2 cup melted butter

Part II
4 eggs, well beaten
1 cup sugar
2 pounds cottage cheese
1 cup heavy cream
2 level teaspoons flour
1 teaspoonful vanilla
Salt to suit taste

The friend who sent us this recipe says that a spring form mould is a necessity because the tort cannot be lifted out of an ordinary pan successfully. But why not make this tort in a deep glass pie plate and serve it from the plate?

Crush the rusk (or a package of Zwieback) fine, mix with the sugar and cinnamon and mash to a paste with the half-cup of melted butter. Reserve a cupful of the mixture for the top. Use cold butter to butter the mould or pie plate and make a crust by pressing the crumb mixture firmly against the bottom and sides of dish.

You will experience trouble in mixing the commercial cottage cheese unless it is well drained, then put through a sieve or run through the food chopper to break up the lumps.

Beat the eggs, sugar, vanilla and flour till very smooth. Add the cream and mashed cottage cheese. Taste and add salt as indicated. Carefully place this filling in the crumb-lined plate, scatter the remaining cupful over the top and bake 1 hour in a slow oven (275 degrees). Chill to serve.

A tort of this size will make ten portions, each of which will be worth almost 500 calories, composed largely of energy and fat-forming carbohydrates, plus a very fair amount of high-grade proteins.

Ann's Cook Book, No. 12, Cakes, the next but last of the cooking book series, is offered free of charge all this week if you will send in a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Tomorrow's recipe will be Spaghetti Creole.

ANN MEREDITH.

"MOROCCO" AT FOX BROADWAY HERE 4 DAYS

Paramount's "Morocco," long awaited here, opened a four-day engagement at the Fox Broadway theater last night, and those who saw it were glad they waited.

A strange love story, with the principals a reckless member of the Foreign Legion whose past was his own business, and a cabaret singer much in the same position, or as she says, "a member of the Foreign Legion for Women"—these two meet in "Morocco" against the weird background and fall in love.

Her consuming love for her man and his cooler affection for her, coupled with many events (take him through battles and intrigues, and her willingness to give all for him, only to have him reject her time and again, gives to the screen a different type of story than has ever been seen here.

Marlene Dietrich captured Santa Ana in "The Blue Angel" several weeks ago, and she is destined to become even more popular after Santa Ana audiences have seen "Morocco." She gives a smoother performance and her acting in the American-made picture shows an artistic touch that was absent in the former picture. She is more beautiful and her personality seems more genuine.

Gary Cooper, playing another "uniform" part, probably gives his best performance to date. As a reckless, careless soldier of fortune, his acting is a surprise after seeing him in "Fighting Caravans."

Adolph Menjou returns to the screen in another of his dapper roles and is the same Menjou of former years, turning in as fine a performance as ever.

C. Aubrey Smith, English actor, gives a great show as the "father," Ralph Forbes has the male lead in the show.

CLOSE DOUBLE BILL AT WALKER STATE

"The double bill—"Follow Thru" and "Wildwest Whoopee," is closing tonight at Walker's State.

"Follow Thru" is a pert and peppy outdoor story. Nancy Carroll, with ambitions to win a championship crown on the links, diverts her attention from golf to the handsome club professional, Charles Rogers, and gives her rival, Thelma Todd, a chance to hold out first. Successful on the fairways, Thelma tries her talent at love-making, but Nancy refuses to give her any advantage there. Rogers has an eye for golf champions, so that Nancy, to win a husband, has first to win the golf crown.

To Relieve Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises.

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises go to McCoy's drug store or your druggist, and get 1 oz. of Parmit (Double Strength), and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water, and a little sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucous stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Adv.

Late News From Orange County Communities

BRANCH SCHOOL SUGGESTED FOR BEACH SECTION

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 12.—The rapid development of this community may demand, within the next year or two, one or more branch elementary schools, it was stated by Lew Wallace at a meeting of the Newport Beach Exchange club yesterday at the Yacht club. Wallace stated that a committee of the Business Men's association had paid a visit to the school and that branch schools was one of the suggested solution of the growing problem of school accommodation here.

The school board recently sent a letter to the Exchange club and other organizations, asking that delegations be sent, before the board decides on a policy of expansion. The letter said that attendance had increased about 30 per cent this year over last year.

One proposal was to try double sessions for one year, if the attendance continues to increase next fall. Another is to add to the present school, and another is to build a branch school in another section of the city. It was brought out that about 40 attend the school district school from the Boulevard tract, which lies along Newport boulevard, just west of Newport Heights.

J. P. Greeley, a member of the club, and former county school superintendent, said that he for one was opposed to a bill in the legislature which would consolidate school districts. Opposition to this bill was voiced last week by Principal E. O. Ensign of the local school and by Leroy P. Anderson, chairman of the high school board, at a meeting of the Costa Mesa Lions club Tuesday.

A branch school, it was pointed out, would effect a big saving in transportation costs, besides probably affording more commodious grounds, the present plant, if added to, being in the opinion of many too large for the grounds.

BUILDING WORK UNDER WAY IN MISSION CITY

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Feb. 12.—A building boom is supplying work to a number of local carpenters. The new Kelly block, located at the corner of Broadway and State highway, opposite the mission, is one of the most important projects yet started in the town. Fred Stroschein, contractor in charge, states the building is to be one-story, built in mission style, and containing three store rooms. All rooms in the building are already contracted for. The Capistrano drug store will occupy the corner room, and the post office, now in the Ray store, will be installed in one room, and it is not announced what will be in the third store room.

The new Spanish front of the White garage is attractive. The contractor in charge, Bill Fulmer, has carried out the design of the architect, who happens to be his son, Kenneth, a former Tustin high school student, who is now studying art and designing.

Over four miles of steel pipe is now being laid at Capistrano Acres, establishing water lines to the property. Contract for the building of a graded and surfaced road into the property has been let, and the first unit, of 280 acres, will be set to orange trees, and sub-divided into approximately 30 estates, with a few lots for business purposes.

Clarence Brown, one of the owners of the property, will plant the land between the young orange trees this year to vegetable seed crops. Fred Stoffie, the other owner of the property, who is managing the development of the tract, announces that the land will be placed on the market in the near future.

SUNDAY SCHOOL IN BUENA PARK ELECTS

BUENA PARK, Feb. 12.—Officers of the Buena Park Congregational Sunday school were elected at the board meeting in the primary room Tuesday evening. Emanuel Bastady was re-elected treasurer and Miss Esther Hartman will again serve as secretary, with Miss Margaret Cole as assistant secretary. George Cole resigned as assistant superintendent and appointment for this office will be made at the March meeting.

Dr. Bastady, superintendent, announced that no changes would be made in the department superintendents. Mrs. G. S. Davis is in charge of the primary, Mrs. Jesse Gill the junior, Arthur F. Corey the young people, and Mrs. G. F. Corey the adult department.

The Sunday school will assume the payment of $200 of the interest on the church loan. Additional chairs were ordered for the primary department, as there are now over 100 children enrolled. The community hall adjoining the church has been remodeled and is being used as class rooms for the Men's Bible class with L. A. Newman as teacher, and the Young Married People's class with Mrs. A. E. Bean as teacher.

MAN, BOY INJURED IN AUTO CRASHES

ANAHEIM, Feb. 12.—A man and a boy were injured in auto accidents which occurred here Tuesday. Nesden Booth, son of A. A. Booth, of 118 East Cypress street, was cut about the head. J. B. Ely, of San Gabriel was bruised and received minor injuries.

A car driven by Carl Truempier, Anaheim, and the Booth car collided at the corner of Orange and Topeka streets Tuesday evening.

Truempier was not injured.

CZAR-LIKE JUDGE PRESIDES AT DEFENDANTS PUZZLED BY MANY CHARGES TRIAL OF BEACH CLUB MEMBERS

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 12.—Echoes of the Marathon dance held here last summer were heard at the Newport Harbor club yesterday, when extraordinary proceedings were staged at the meeting there of the Newport Beach Exchange club, in the form of a "trial" of J. P. Greeley, R. R. Hodgkinson, H. L. Sherman, R. L. Patterson and G. C. Macleod before "Judge" E. I. Moore, with Lew Wallace as prosecuting attorney, and George Wilson as defense attorney.

Some of the defendants are still wondering what the charges were, but attempts to file motions to quash, motions to discharge the defendants, demurrers and numerous other motions were all thrown out with little ceremony by the czarlike jurist. His reasons were either not given at all or were unique and of infinite variety.

The defendants also were not able to tell, at the conclusion of the hearing, whether Wallace or

TWO PATRIOTS EULOGIZED AT BREA SESSION SCHOOL PUPILS OF SEAL BEACH GIVE PROGRAM

BREA, Feb. 12.—In a patriotic address given before the Brea Woman's club, the Rev. W. Judson Oldfield eulogized Washington and Lincoln, whose birthday anniversaries are this month being observed, as patriots great in service of their country and whose deeds will live forever in the hearts of the American people. In such rich heritage, he said, the American nation has a source of everlasting thanksgiving and praise.

Mrs. C. C. Crookshank, acting for Mrs. Alex Kuenzli as hostess chairman, was assisted by Mesdames E. E. Curtis, Frank Schock and Elsie Weaver. Poinsettias and fern were used in decorating the club and dining room. The tea table presented a patriotic scene with a miniature log cabin and the national colors arranged to good effect.

At the business meeting presided over by Mrs. E. E. Anderson, decision was reached to serve at the meeting of March 10, the occasion honoring past presidents of the club. On February 24, A. E. Steukle, instructor in history and drama in the Brea-Olinda union high school, will speak on "Education." Mrs. O. S. Close will be chairman of the hostess committee for this meeting.

Announcement was made that 50 cards of admission to the Huntington library had been secured by the club, a visit there planned for April 2. Those club members wishing to make the trip are asked to make application to the recording secretary, Mrs. L. E. Woods.

Mrs. F. J. Schweizer announced a song service being given by the music section of the Congregational church on the evening of February 22. The art section is meeting today with Mrs. Schock. Mrs. G. C. Folckemer, chairman of the ways and means committee, turned in approximately $45, proceeds of the country store card party given on the evening of January 30.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE - WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the morning Ravin' to Go
If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, minner water, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only make the bowels a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.
If your food doesn't flow freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, sad state and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

STATE BILLS DISCUSSED FOR BREA CHAMBER

BREA, Feb. 12.—Assemblyman Ted Craig, introduced by President H. H. LeGro, addressed the chamber of commerce at yesterday's meeting, telling of the working of the state's legislative bodies with particular reference to measures pertaining to the interests of Orange county and which will come before the March session of those bodies.

Among these were equalization of taxes, inclusion of certain county roads in the state's secondary highway system, reappointment and the formation of new congressional districts with the possibility of another assemblyman for Orange county, advancement of the county from tenth to ninth class and the consequent adjustment of the salaries of county officials.

H. H. Hale, Ralph McFadden, James Tuffree, T. E. Pickersell and Dr. Guy L. Kay, members of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce, were guests, each speaking briefly. Hale, endorsing the Metropolitan water district plan and flood control for the county, Tuffree complimented Brea and Olinda on the union high school and its splendid faculty. Dr. Westerhouse, a newcomer, assisting Dr. Glen Curtis at the Brea General hospital, was introduced.

W. D. Shaffer, chairman of the industrial committee, read a wire received from Senator Shortridge and a letter from Congressman Swing acknowledging the receipt of the resolution forwarded by the industrial committee pertaining to the importation of petroleum and its by-products. Mr. Shaffer suggested that next week's meeting be devoted to the subject of foreign trade, particularly with its bearing on Brea industries, and this will be carried out.

C. O. Harvey, principal of the high school, announced the completion of the dental clinic at the school, a movement endorsed by Brea dentists, they giving their services free to such pupils as could not otherwise receive this attention. A similar movement, Mr. Harvey stated, had been in progress for the past two years in the school, sponsored by the physicians of the city with the result that the health program of the school had been of a very high standard. In recognition of the services of Brea physicians and dentists to the high school, the Brea booster body will make public a resolution of appreciation.

Dr. W. E. Jackson announced that Brea now has a reusitator, the first ever owned in the city. Use of this important apparatus may be had by applying to either the Brea Emergency hospital or the Brea General hospital.

Hostesses were Mrs. McNamee, Mrs. Long and Mrs. George Hays. The Valentine idea was carried out in many of the games and at the close of the evening refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Now, Wife Enjoys Foods That Used To Make Her Ill

For over five years it seemed like everything my wife enjoyed eating would disagree with her," says E. Murray, 706 State Ave., Kansas City, Kansas. "She would suffer from indigestion until the gas would crowd her heart."

"We tried a lot of things for her trouble, some of which relieved the gas temporarily but upset her real stomach. She did not get any real help until a friend persuaded me to get her some Pape's Diapepsin. Now she eats anything—fried things, onions, pastry; foods that used to make her ill. If she feels the least discomfort a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin makes her comfortable in a minute."

When thousands like Mr. Murray are coming right out in public to praise Pape's Diapepsin, there seems no reason to doubt that it does what is claimed for it to help people who suffer from acid-dyspepsia, and the heartburn, gas, nausea, belching, headaches, dizziness, etc., caused by this common ailment. But those who wish further proof before buying may easily have it. The makers agree to send anyone a trial package absolutely FREE. Just write "Pape's Diapepsin," Wheeling, W. Va.

Will Rogers and Al Smith Join Staff of Register Writers!

WILL ROGERS

Will Rogers, known to millions as perhaps the greatest humorist of his time, has been added to the staff of daily contributors to The Register. His timely philosophy and comment on national affairs will appear each day on the first page of The Register, starting next Saturday.

Will Rogers is one of the three best known persons in the world.

Can you name the other two? Of course, they are Lindbergh and the Prince of Wales.

Rogers, who began life as an Oklahoma cowboy, now ranks as one of the foremost commentators on the life and time in which he lives. His daily comments on the news, sent by wire to newspapers all over the United States, are read by millions every day.

Perhaps no person, not in politics, has ever had a more enthusiastic following than has Will Rogers.

He has traveled all over the world, and is a personal friend of almost every notable man in world affairs.

Rogers owes his start in life to his ability to throw a lasso. He was such an expert at this phase of ranch work that he made a name for himself in the early roping contests, which later developed into what we now know as rodeos.

He went on the stage as a vaudeville entertainer and later was a prominent part of Flo Ziegfeld's Follies. He began writing for the newspapers while in the Follies.

Rogers lives in Beverly Hills, California, with his wife and family. He sends out most of his comments on the world's news from his home and also frequently broadcasts over a nationwide radio hookup.

ALFRED E. SMITH

Alfred E. Smith, one of the best known Americans, will write for The Santa Ana Register a weekly article, beginning Saturday, February 14.

A more important announcement, from the standpoint of newspaper readers and publishers, could hardly be imagined.

Mr. Smith has been four times governor of the most populous state in the union. He received fifteen million votes for the presidency. He is one of the most popular public speakers in the world, now that he has retired to private life.

He writes for everybody. He knows politics and economics, but he also knows the problems of the ordinary American family. He himself came "up from the city streets," and when he writes he thinks of the big audience that constitutes the backbone of America.

Mr. Smith is now president of the company that has just built the largest and tallest building in the world. He is identified also with unemployment relief and various benevolent organizations. He is a man of affairs who is taking time out to do what he loves best—to write for all Americans his opinions on and thoughts about the important affairs of the world.

THE NEW YORK TIMES SAYS:

New York's ex-Governor is soon to join that choir invisible but audible which writes a newspaper column. He has contracted to supply once a week an article of "from 1,000 to 1,500 words" on any subject that interests him. Ex-President Coolidge is writing his views daily; actors and radio broadcasters are doing the same thing. Not one of these could have worthier observations than the always informing Mr. Smith.

His good sense was never better revealed than in his contract to do a piece once a week instead of daily. It is difficult, even for professional journalists, to interest the reading public in their comment every day. Amateurs, however distinguished, usually begin with a large and expectant following, which shrinks to a few faithful after lumps of quartz begin to occur more frequently than nuggets. In due time the daily column's sacred first-page position is lost in the shuffle of real news, and a little while later the distinguished contributor turns to other work. Mr. Smith's weekly efforts should have a longer life.

An enumeration of the former Governor's tasks since he left politics would shame most of us who complain of overwork. He is many times a director. He is helping the Theatre League with its ticket problem and heading a committee for the relief of unemployment. He is supervising the building of the loftiest structure in town. He made a campaign for Governor Roosevelt's reelection. As he begins his new work he may have the comforting reflection that all these activities give him more things to write about with knowledge.

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY NAL COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

"I think," exclaimed the Travel Man, as to his side the Times ran, "that we had best stay in this town and catch up on our sleep. One good night's rest will pep us all. I'm so tired now that I could fall. There's nothing sounds much better now than good old slumber deep."

"Now, that's what I call common sense," said Scouty. "Shall we sleep in tents? I saw some down the road a ways and they looked nice and cool. If we can find a store nearby I'll gladly go right in and try to get one for the bunch of us. They rent them, as a rule."

They looked around and found a store and told what they had come in for. The native keeper said, "Well, boys, I'll let you use my tent. It's in a field not far from here and there is not one thing to fear. It will not cost you anything. I have no tents to rent."

They thanked him very much and then were on their merry way again. The tent was found. They crawled inside and soon were sleeping sound. Just as the Travel Man had guessed, it was a wondrous place to rest. Each sleeper had a blanket and a soft spot on the ground.

Next morn they woke up with the sun and Scouty cried, "Say! That was fun. Let's hike back in town where we can get a bite to eat. I'd like some milk and fine toast, too. And oatmeal. I am sure, will do." They shortly had some breakfast. Then there came a lovely treat.

Sweet strains of music filled the air and Scouty shouted, "Well, look there." They looked and saw a man who played an instrument real well. "Twins mine of bamboo, split just right to make long strings. My, what a sight. The old man played some more tunes and then Carpy cried, "That's swell!"

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE, TIE, PIE, PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters can not be changed.

EVENING SALUTATION

There have been a great number of wars,

should mean the same to every American.

—THOMAS A. EDISON.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Another anniversary of the birth of the Great Emancipator is with us today.

Abraham Lincoln, with all of the qualities which appealed to men, which indicated his breadth of sympathy, his patience, his understanding and a certain quality of his own fitness for the peculiar hour which he faced,
looms larger on the horizon of history than ever before.

The mortal Lincoln passed away; the immortal Lincoln lives today as genuinely, maybe more so, than on the busiest day that he ever saw in Springfield or in Washington.

Abraham Lincoln, with all of his greatness,
would have been the last to have desired that he should be revered as a faultless man, in fact, it is the knowledge of his limitations that to a great degree has made him understandable by the common folks.

He had the experiences which so many have had. His family was unfortunate—they were in need of a great deal of the time. He faced hardship and penury; disappointments came upon him in deluge form, not only in politics and business, but in the deepest and most sacred relationships to which humans are subject.

As he proceeded with these experiences and grew to manhood, and passed into middle age,
they had a softening and chastening influence upon his character, and, in a very remarkable way, through those experiences, he was able to understand and sympathize with all with whom he came in contact. The philosophy, statesmanship and intellectual acumen which he possessed, were not the result of the usual processes which bring about the degree of ability which he achieved.

The spirit and practical manner in which he met the problems were of the type that makes them of universal application. We feel as we consider his life, that he could fit into our present problems as our national executive, with the millions of unemployed, the many people hungry, our international misunderstandings, the great movement for peace and world unity with the same adaptability, perfection and elements of greatness that he did
into the conflict that arose between the states.

The virtues and principles which he enunciated, much like the Master's Himself, seem to be so classical and profound, that they can be applied to any circumstance and condition.

We are not greatly worried or concerned over those who claim to have uncovered more fraudulent in the life of the ancestors of Abraham Lincoln, or more evidences of weakness in his own career. We can almost, in our imagination, see Abraham Lincoln himself as he might read or listen to such criticism.
Some way or other, we feel that he would be found saying: "Yes, that man is right,—his estimation of me is approaching nearer the reality. That is the opinion that I have."

For, after all, he was accustomed to those harsh criticisms when he carried on. He was an "ignoramus," a "buffoon," a "baboon," and worse in the estimation not only of the critics here in the United States, but in Great Britain and in other parts of the world. But the world passed through that view, and came out fine
and free on the other side, so that the experience of London "Punch" epitomizes the experience of mankind generally, when at the close of his career, it said that he had lived to refute their aspersions and destroy their pen, and he stood, "this rail splitter, as the true-born king of men."

The more evidences that are brought out indicating weaknesses and limitations upon Mr.
Lincoln in certain directions, cause in a way
a greater reverence and awe of that something in his personality which must have been so great to have been able to achieve in spite of it all, and that the Father can use in such a remarkable and wonderful way for the accomplishment of His program an instrument which to many may seem weak and unfit.

CLEAR UP OIL SITUATION

Now comes protest from Colombia and Venezuela to the proposed embargo on the importation of foreign oil. If there is any additional evidence needed to absolutely demonstrate the wisdom of prohibiting the shipment into the United States of oil from other countries, this protest from these other countries would complete that demonstration.

Of course they are interested in their labor
and in their industrial life, just as we are,
and there is certainly no animosity in this country against them, but naturally the obligations on our Congress are the obligations of looking after the people of the United States
first and particularly when they are suffering.
Oil can be produced in some of these other countries more cheaply than it can here; the standards of labor are lower, and this is additional reason why the proposed course should be carried out.

The elimination of this competition will mean
the rehabilitation of thousands of homes throughout the United States and hundreds of them right here in Orange county. It has been a fine thing for these foreign countries
during the many months when the United States has been curtailing its output of oil, both by the processes of agreement between producers and by the flow that has come in from foreign countries to compete in price. It is a matter of surprise that this has not been tended to heretofore.

Just how manipulations have been made,

and what interests have connected up with the forces at Washington to protect this "dumping" into our country of this great product has not yet been brought to light. Certainly there is a reason for it somewhere. But even at that, the reason is not so important now as to correct the difficulty. It must be done before March 4th or this alone would make an extra session of Congress worth while. There are important matters before our national Congress. Those who wish to prevent the correction of such manifest injustices as are manifest in the oil situation, desire the day of adjournment to come before the corrections are made. And then they are raising the hue and cry against a special session.

Congress is trying to give expression to the sentiment of the people in enactments.
They should stay in Washington until the oil situation is cleared up or such legislation is enacted as to insure, as far as law can do it,
that the domestic oil men shall have a fair chance at the markets of their own country.

TAKING TO FLIGHT

The perfecting of an automatic airplane landing device is good news indeed. The time is approaching now, when all the timid souls who have been fearful of airplanes will eventually become enthusiasts. The plane which was demonstrated yesterday, it is said, neither dives,
stalls, nor spins and automatically lands itself.
Time after time it was shown that landing could be accomplished merely by setting the wings of this plane and cut the engine to idling speed. The plane takes the proper gliding position and lands without further attention. In fact, as the pilot yesterday was landing, again and again he waved his arms
so that all might see that the landing was automatic.

Professor Albert Adams Merrill, former member of the staff of California Institute of Technology, was the inventor.

Detailed air traffic regulations and air traffic police are an imminent necessity for with the danger of landing, of the tailspin, of stalls, and dives eliminated superman and moron will take to flying and the remaining dangers will be from head-on collisions and side-swiping.

None Can Stand Out

The tiny nation of Andorra has lived a her-mit's life for twelve centuries, high in the Pyrenees, between France and Spain. It is a state so small that one can walk its length or breadth in half a day. It has no highway leading out to the world except mountain trails suited to pack mules, no railway, no motion picture house. Few strangers have entered, for they must ride through high passes of the Pyrenees on mules, and find little comfort when they reach their goal.

Isolated thus, Andorrans have been suspended in time while other nations followed through their destinies in an ever-changing economic evolution.
Many times capitalists have looked on Andorra with eager eyes, seeking to make it a second Monte Carlo. Some have entered to start newspapers or banks or railways, but Andorrans would have none of them, and sent them packing.

But the pressure of the machine age is great,
and its mechanical luxuries are tempting. Andorrans are succumbing to the ease of modern living.
The little nation has no less than seven radios.
It soon will have motion pictures. And, spurning mere highways or railroads, it plans to build an airport.

Another decade will make a very different place of Andorra. In 1941 it will be as close to Hollywood as to Barcelona, a day's journey away. Andorrans then will learn each evening what brand of tooth paste they should use, what tomorrow's weather over Iceland will be, what song hits are coming out of Broadway and how many gangsters have been shot in the last twenty-four hours.
In short, they will by 1941 be civilized.

It is a trifle gloomy to contemplate, this end of Andorra's hermitage. We have always wanted to go to Andorra, and now we shall have to hurry.

less Cycle

San Bernardino Sun
Dr. Edwin B. Frost, director of the Yerkes observatory, is much interested in the experiments and discoveries of Dr. Robert A. Millikan, which suggests that new creation keeps pace with destruction. While the stars are being consumed in the process of turning matter into radiant light
and heat and scattering it through the universe, there seems to be evidence that such radiation is being changed back into matter again in outer space. Dr. Frost, however, is inclined to go farther than Millikan. He says:

When we consider the different units of the cosmos, it is difficult to say which is the end-product and which the beginning. It is again
the old, unsolved problem of the cycle of the hen and the egg. But there are suggestive implications in the possibility of cycles in the progress of the universe, with developments
from the simple toward the complex in one phase and, in the reverse direction, from the complex to the simple in the other phase.

This is getting back to the cosmic philosophy of Herbert Spencer. Indeed, it is getting back a good deal farther than Spencer.

Thousands of years ago Hindu philosophers were teaching that the world perpetually recreates itself. Alternately, they said, there are periods of evolution or "outbreathing" and periods of devolution or "inbreathing." Alternately there is a "Day of Brahma," in which the universe is a going concern; then a "Night of Brahma," in which it rests and prepares for another unfolding.

Edgar Allan Poe once wrote a book setting forth
the same theory.

The Talkie-Walkie

Oakland Tribune
In the lists of new dances there is the Walkietalkie, something not to be confused with Jab-berwocky or duckie-wuckie. The idea is good, for a number of reasons. Imagine the orchestra playing as sweetly as possible under the circumstances and considering the instruments with which they have been provided. There comes a halt and Jane Doe and Richard Roe quit waltzing, let their arms dangle, stroll over the polished floor and engage in the almost forgotten art of polite conversation.
Richard, of course, is supposed to liberate intelligent and entertaining remarks and Jane will show her knowledge of letters and the arts is every bit as good as his. The music starts, the waltz goes on—and that is a talkie-walkie. It is too much, perhaps, to look for immediate results.
For a time the talkie part will remain: "Gee, it's hot here tonight," and "ain't the music swell?"

More Truth Than Poetry

POVERTY AND RICHES

The troubled Republic of France
Is plunged in the depths of despair
For nobody yearns for a chance
To sit in the president's chair.
Political leaders must scour the state
Exploring in every direction
Before they assemble to make up their elite
On the eve of a party election.

There are plenty of people of brains
To be found in that cultured land
But they don't like to take up the reins
And to pick up the whip of command.
Though one travel from Nice up to Calais and back,
Through one page all the great of the nation,
No man can be found who pretends to the knack
Of running an administration.

How different are things over here;
Not a state but is keen to compete
With a man who will run without fear
For the President's dignified seat.
From Florida's palm trees to Oregon's pines
And from all intermediate regions,
As soon as the beacon of preferment shines
Rise favorite sons by the legions.

Too bad, that when France is so short
Of statesmen who hunger for place
We cannot tomorrow export
Squads of statesmen to enter the race.
With never a thought that she stood in our debt
This country could send her a host of them,
And without any sorrow or sigh of regret;
We could easily spare her the most of them.

The Least We Can Say

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

Russia has a Five Year Plan for economic development.
Some critics have a lot to say for the Plan; others not so much.
The least we can say is, that it IS a Plan.

The State Planning Commission in Russia has figured out what products the country needs. On that basis, it has decided how much new equipment to provide for the textile industry, how much for the lumber industry, and how much for every other industry.

No doubt the Commission has made some mistakes. But it has not made the colossal mistake of assuming that all industries will expand at the right rate, in stable equilibrium, without any plan at all.

That is precisely the mistake the United States has made.
It has no plan. It never has had a plan. And largely for that reason, it now has five million idle workers and twenty billion dollars worth of idle plants. It might have had Planned Prosperity. What it actually has is Unplanned Depression.

The textile industry, for example, went ahead building mills
in New England, and more mills, without regard to markets.
And then, when trouble came, the industry proceeded to build more mills in the South, and then more mills.

A National Planning Board, of even fairly competent men, would not have planned any such expansion. And it is not likely that investors, fully informed by such a Commission, would have put so much of their money into useless mills.

But investors were not informed. Nobody was informed.
Nobody knew to what extent the textile industry should expand, in order to do its part in planned industrial development. FOR
THERE WAS NO PLAN.

Two years ago, the Hoover Committee on Recent Economic Changes declared that the maintenance of economic equilibrium more and more demands deliberate public control. Deliberate public control demands a National Planning Board.

That does not require us to follow Soviet Russia in sacrificing individual initiative, responsibility, and rewards. But the least we can say of Soviet Russia is that it HAS a Plan.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

PROPHETS OF THE IMPOSSIBLE

There are two kinds of prophets.

Prophets who paint bright pictures of what is possible. Prophets who paint black pictures of what is impossible.

I have lately been playing the role of the prophet who paints a bright picture of a possibility.

I have said that the current economic depression could be made a memory and that the wheels of industry and the marts of trade
could be and would be set humming if industrial and business leadership would only act upon the assumption that it would be best for the manufacturers and for the masses if a good share of the present inactive surplus buying power, in the hands of the minority, were passed on into the hands of the consuming millions through higher wages and lower prices.

And I have ventured the guess
that the logic events will increasingly win converts to this point of view among the creative-minded owners and leaders of American business and industry.

Today I received a letter from a reader of this column saying, "You are expecting the impossible. The owners of the existing inactive purchasing power will never let go of any material part of it. They will hang on. Nothing but governmental action will effect a wider distribution of the nation's wealth."

Here speaks a prophet of the impossible.

This afternoon I drove home
from my office with six airplanes
flying in formation above the city,
and I recalled the prophecy of Simon Newcomb, distinguished scientist, in 1903.

"The example of the bird," he said, "does not prove that man can fly. There are many problems that have fascinated mankind since civilization began which we have made little or no advance in solving. May not our mechanisms be ultimately forced to admit that aerial flight is one of that great class of problems with which man can never hope to cope, and give up all attempts to grapple with it?"

I think my correspondent is a Simon Newcomb, doubting a possibility that is just around the corner.

The great business leader already sees that a wider distribution of purchasing power is good business.

The small caliber business man will sooner or later be forced to see that unless a wider and wider distribution of purchasing power is effected through the business action of business men it will be effect either through political action by politicians, sensitive to the masses, or by direct action of the masses.

The straight-thinking, far-sighted, liberal business man is the one hopeful antidote to radical overturns.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

MAYBE

People who are strictly honest with themselves and other people never say positively that they know what is best for a child. Nobody knows that. What will work with one child will not work with another though both are of the same family, subjected to the same influences. Each child is subject to different influences because each child is different from every other.

When a school announces that it has a cure for all educational disorders, doubt that school. It may be able to help some children, any school is able to do that. It may be able to help a great many children, a few schools can do that,
but no school can do a hundred per cent job because of the nature of childhood.

Sometimes we discover a new method of teaching a subject and immediately there is a tendency to insist that every child be taught that way. Or there is a new idea in the laboratory that must be tried on all children that their education may be achieved. Each educational salesman cries his own wares, which is but right, but the end is not yet. That lies far off in the lap of the gods. If one could but discover a magic that reached every child in the world—would that be a tragedy or a great triumph?

In the meantime we must search on, keeping our minds open that no profitable thought escapes. Each educational idea has value for some child or children. While it may not help all it will help some and that is highly important. That is the only way children can be helped.

Each according to his need and we should welcome each theory, each contribution, to the sum of knowledge in the hope that somewhere,
somehow, some child will benefit.

A school ought to be a place where ideas on education are welcomed and tried out. A school beyond all places in the world ought to be a haven of refuge for the searcher and the scientist and the open-minded teacher. The closed mind should have no place there.
That means that no idea is to be taken as final but that every idea is to be welcomed and scrutinized lest anything of value escapes us.

Of course, that means a different attitude from what we find in most of our schools. But we need that different attitude. School must become a place of life; as much a place of life as the village where it serves. When all the homes are built alike, furnished alike, run alike, then the school can be standardized likewise without loss. But that will never be while humanity remains human.

We will each build the sort of house we want, the kind of home we want. We will furnish it according to our tastes. We will run it according to our own ideas. Then what about the children who come from those homes? Who are to live in such homes of their own by and by? Make them all alike?

It cannot be done. There is no such scheme in nature, in life anywhere. There is no finality, no answer to our everlasting question.
We go on according to what light
we have within us, a mystery even unto our selves. Even so, it is better to grope ahead than to sit by the roadside a monument to our own deadness.

GEORGIA DAY

On February 12, 1773, General
James Oglethorpe, a member of English parliament, founded Georgia.
Oglethorpe had petitioned King George II to grant him and his associates a charter for a tract of land for 21 years, in the southern part of South Carolina. He had three objects in view:

1. To give the worthy and honest poor of England—especially those confined in debtors' prisons—an opportunity to begin life anew in the new world.
2. To furnish a refuge to the persecuted Protestants of southern Europe.
3. To protect the Carolinians against the attacks of the Spaniards of Florida by building up a settlement on the southern frontier.

The immigrants settled on the Savannah river, from which they named the town Savannah, and named the new colony Georgia, in honor of the king.

Oglethorpe's landing is celebrated annually as Georgia day in Georgia.
